

Historic Preservation Month

May is Historic Preservation Month and we're celebrating with programs all month that highlight Reno's rich history and the work being done to uncover and preserve it.

Thursday, May 8, noon – Reno Divorce Ranches: A Dissertation Sneak Peek

Audrey Andrews will present a webinar with her latest research on Reno's Divorce Ranches and describe what the experience of temporary residency meant to divorcées. Register Here.

Thursday, May 8, 5:30 p.m. – City of Reno Historic Preservation Awards

Join the Historical Resources Commission in recognizing the 2025 Historic Preservation Award winners at The Elm Estate, 1401 W 2nd Street. Register Here.

Friday, May 16th, noon – Black Reno in the 1930s (Art Bite at NMA)

Historian Alicia Barber will present recent research at the Nevada Museum of Art on the experience of the Black community in Reno during the 1930s. Register at Nevadaart.com

Thursday, May 22nd, noon – Biggest Little Historic Preservation

City of Reno staff will present a webinar explaining the City's historic preservation program and the tools available on its website for researching local history. Register Here.

Thursday, May 29th, noon – Walking Tour of Reno's Railroad Architecture

Join Architectural Historian Jean-Guy Dubé for a short walk around some of the city's remaining railroad buildings to learn more about how the railroad influenced Reno's development. Meet at the historic Southern Pacific Railroad Depot. Register Here.

Visit www.renoculture.com for information about registering for these events.

